the control of the train men. I have been on trains that made a mile a minute and I know that the runaway train was fully making that speed. I could hardly stay in my berth as the sleeper rocked from side to side or swung around the sharp curves in the road. We were not notified that anything was wrong but the wildly flying train and the terrified shrieks of the engine as the whistle rang out on the gray dawn air told me that something extraordinary was the matter. I afterwards learned that the air brakes refused to work and that the train was on a down grade runaway. The engineer was calling with frantic screeches for brakes, but the trainmen could hardly stand on the platforms, much less put on the brakes. It was a wild ride, and I soon realized that our only hope was to strike an up grade. brakes. It was a wild ride, and I soon realized that our only hope was to strike an up grade. I did not know where we were, but I knew that unless we did get on an up grade a frightful accident would be our portion in a moment. I think we were going at that comet-like speed for three minutes, when suddenly there was a jar a crash, and the two sleepers plunged through the bridge and fell into James river. With the first shock I breed myself against the berth, but in an instant that was shatched and went out into the car. I hat instant the cur struck the water and began filling rapidly. The passengers were all undressed. There were only gentlemen in the car that I occupied, which was the rear sleeper, but the sleeper in front had five ladies in it. Both sleepers were in the river and were sinking. Mr. Kontz, of this city, the superintendent of the Pullman car company, was in a berth opposite mine. He sprang up in by falling timbers. The car filled so repidly that I had to swim part of the way to the hole. All the passengers succeeded in escaping from that car and when it settled it stood just above the surface of the water. We all then shivering in our night clothes set about getting the ladies out of their car. They were screaming with fright but I must confess they did not do any work if the

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS

Saved His Life.

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

I was called to see Mr. John Pearson, who s confined to his bed with what appeared to be consumption of the worst form. As all of his family had died of that dread dis-ease (except his half brother), his death was regarded as certain and soon. After exhausting all the remedies, I finally as a last resort, sent for a bottle q Brewer's Lung Bestorer, and it acted like magic. He continued the use of it for some time and has been fully restored to health. So far as I could discover, he had consumption and Brewer's Lung Restorer saved his life. J. O. HOLLOWAY, M. D., Barnesville, Ga.

ANOTHER RESCUE FROM DEATH.

In 1881, while sewing on a machine, my wife was taken with a severe pain in her side, which was soon followed by hemorrages from her lungs, severe cough and fe ver, and could neither eat or sleep, and in a few weeks was reduced to a mere skeleton. Her stomach refused to retain any food, and the physician thought one of her lungs was entirely gone. At a final consultation of two physicians her case was pronounced hopeless. I tried Brewer's Lung Restorer by advice of one of the physi-cians, and the began to improve after the third dose. She continued the medicine, and is now in excellent health, and is better than she has been in several years. I believe Brewer's Lang Restorer saved her

KELLY AND THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY. We have received a number of letters commending the recent utterances of The Cox-Privion relative to the attitude of John Kelly and the duty of the democratic party; and there are other reasons for believing that our remarks touched a responsive note in the belief and desire of every thoughtful democrat who has taken a more than casual interest n the situation that presents itself. There s not a sensible democrat in this country who there is nothing expecially unsatisfactory in not heartily fired of facing the so-called the foreign trade of the closing year. In this circular, Kelly said: As the friends of Governor Tilden from New York are industriously circulating a report among

While thus sincerely expressing our views before the nomination, we design distinctly understood that it is our intention to support to the best of whatever candidate the democratic ional convention shall in its wisdom determine to place before the country, but we warn it against ominating a man who we are perfectavinced cannot carry the state of New York. In spite of Kelly's personal efforts, in spite ular, and in spite of everything Tammany could do, Mr. Tilden was nominated. He was nominated, and he carried New York; more than this, he carried the country Whatever significance there is in these facts the honest democrats of the country have the right to profit by it. It is a matter of history that when the party deliberately ignored the protests as well s the desires of John Kelly and Tammany hall, its candidate was approved at the polls by a great popular majority of the veters of the country. This fact is worthy of consideration now when the conditions are so nearly the same, far as the democratic party is concerned. Every consideration of wisdom and policy point to and demand the nomination of Grover Cleveland in 1884, just as they demanded the nomination Mr. disputed right of the cow. His influence lies wholly in the direction of his ability and willingness to sell a few votes to the republicans in return for the party power that a little municipal patronage gives him in New York city. This is Mr. John Kelly's power and it is the whole of it. If he is allowed to dictate to the democratic convention in any shape or form, the fact will be in the nature of an advertisement that the democratic party deserves defeat, and it will get what it deserves.

A noticeable novelty of the concert was the number of little girl violionists and the excellence of their performances. It is a most charming novelty and it was a dainty sight to see these sweet little lassies of eleven years of age, showing such mastery of this difficult instrument.

The piano playing was very sparkling and correct, and a credit to that painstaking and accomplished teacher, Miss Pauline Wurm. The violin instruction was by Professor Wurm, a master of the Wonderful Instrument. 7 40 a m 3 40 p 1 8 40 a m 4 40 p 1 11 04 a m 7 40 p 1 2 59 p m 11 45 p 1 6 55 p m 4 20 a 1 Stops at all way stations and by signals. 6 50 p m Six reporters walking ten miles for an "item" at the warehouse Friday.
